rginia Democrat Says His Name Wil Be Presented to the Next National Convention-Price of Silver

Causes Apprehension,

The Times-Dispatch Bureau, No. 1417 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., Soptember 4th. I had a long talk to-day with a Virainia Democrat, well known throughout the State, who is in favor of booming Governor Montague for the Democratic pomination to the Vice-Presidency next year. In conclusion he said:

'I think you are safe, perfectly safe, in will be presented to the next national convention) for nomination to the second place. He would go into the convention place. He would go into the convention perfectly cortain of securing the vote of every Southern State. He is well known at the North, where he has frequently addressed public gatherings, and where he has invariably made a most favorable impression. I believe he could count on securing very strong support from the Democrats of that section. Although he may not be known to the nation generally, what people know of him is good. The fact that he is the Democratic Governor of Virginia is assurance that he is a man of sound character and politics. If Governor Montague will only consent to his friends making a fight for him, I believe he can finish close to first."

A gentleman who occupies a prominent stiton under the government, in constition and the government, in constraint a few weeks ago, expressed to North and West would like to vote a Southern man for President or Viceresident. He thought the reputation of the men of the South for honesty and upservatism in public affairs appealed ost strongly to Northern and Western topic, who are tired of the issue and ories which are so commonly embraced.

most strongly to Northern and westing people, who are tired of the isms and ologies which are so commonly embraced in those sections by men who use them to ride into office.

"Nobody will deny the fact," he said, "that Congress, irrespective of party, is always inclined to favor Virginia in the matter of appropriations and other legislation. The prestige of the old Commonwealth is not at all lost. But the people down there ought to talk just a little loss about the war," and he smiled good-naturedly and bent over his desk again. The prestige of Virginia's name should add strength to the candidacy of Governor Montague for the Vice-Presidency.

An alumnus of the Virginia Military Institute spid to-day be thought that Congress would bis willing at this late day to pass a bill reimbursing the State of Virginia for destruction of the Institute of Virginia for destruction of the Institute of Virginia for destruction of the Institute of Isea. Nothing whatever is risked in saying there would not be the slightest channer of the passage of such a measure. The bit would receive the votes of Southern bunderats and Republicans, and of a few Northern and Western Democrats. But the Republicans of the West and North and many of the Democrats of those sections would vote against any such measure, holding that the destruction of a military school of the enemy's was a perfectly justifiable act of War.

There seems the best of reasons for saving that Assistant Foreman Millor, of the Government Printing Office, will be removed in a few days. It is stated that the Presidentitias dijected that action in the case by taken at once. Miller was discharged some months ago because he was not a member of the Bookbinders Union, but was reinstated by order of the President, who said no such reason for discharge could be recognized in any department of the government. It is now charged that Miller is guilly of bigany, and that his two wives are living at the present time. It is suid-the President will have Miller has admitted its truth, but claims he did not know the first wife was alive when he took wife No. 2.

NORFOLK POLITICS

Col. Geo. C. Cabell Discusses Situation

in Seaside City.

Among the arrivals in the city yesterday was Colonel George C. Cabell, Jr., of Norfolk, member of the House, and also chief of the Governor's staff. Colonel Cabell has been in Western North Carolina for a week, and is on his way home, accompanied by Mrs. Cabell. He will not be a candidate for the House this year, at least. Asked whom the Democrats of Norfolk city would nominate for the House, he said that he thought that Mr. S. S. Lambeth, Jr., who was the candidate of the Dey faction two years ago, would be renominated, and that the other candidate would be some well known representative of the organized labor intercats. When asked whom the Trehy faction would nominate, he said that he understood that they would probably not make a fight for the two House teats, but would probably concentrate their effects on the struggle to secure control of the City Democratic Committee. He could not speak positively on that point, Cabell has been in Western North Carcould not speak positively on that point, inquiries Respecting a School for 'Negroes in Halifax County.

Deparement of Public Instruction has received a letter from a man at the Marlbore, Mass., māking inquiry as to the McKinley Industrial Institute, a negro school at Meadville, Halifax county, and the character and standing of the school. So far as known, this is one of the many embroy institutions for negroes that are springing up in the State to take advantage of prodigal Nothern philanthropy now being showered upon the negroes of the South. It is inferred from the inquiry that some agent of the McKinley Institute has been in Messachusetts coliciting funds for the institution. Lattle or nothing is known of the school at the Education Department, where it is to be expected that a school of such pretentious name would at least be known.

The State Department, where it is, to be expected that a school of such pretentious name would at least be known.

The State Department of Education has received a communication in the nature of a protest from a committee of negro residents of Charlotte county in the vicinity of Keysville, wherein the signers oppose the proposition to combine thernegro public school at that place with the mission school recently established there, it is charged that the local school authorities recently granted leave for the public school and the denominational mission school to be merged. Some lively and interesting developments are promised as the result of the protest, if the allegations of the writers be sustained and given publicity.

Several of the men are from this city and have business interests here. They are trying to get back after a visit to their old homes in China. ed, Mr. W. H. Zimmermann said yester-day afternoon that nothing definite was yet known. Propositions had been made to him, and the matter of erecting a hotel on his site at the northeast cor-ner of Broad and Seventh Streets was un-der consideration. It was simply impossi-ble to say whether or not anything would come of it. Certainly, nothing was defi-nitely known at present.

and Wendenburg would go under the wire far in advance of their opponents, but it was around the races for treasurer, clerk and commissioner of the revenue in the upper district of the county that the greatest interest centered.

For the latter position the final round up only gave Mr. C. W. Childrey, the incumbent, but 84 majority over Mr. Caskle E. Smith, who, by the way, was opposing Mr. Childrey for the third time. Down in the lower district Mr. R. M. Pilcher was almost brutally beaten by Mr. L. H. Kemp (incumbent), the vote having been Kemp, 1,203; Pilcher, 234.

All during the long hours of the night, the battle seeined to waver between Messrs.
